Cards and Posters in Color and B&W

Using the Gratitude Cards and Posters

There are many people working hard for us in this era of Covid-19. These cards and posters have been designed as a way to thank Healthcare Workers and Essential Workers and to let them know that they are appreciated.

Children can color cards or posters and then with the help of a parent or teacher give them to someone who deserves our appreciation. Alternatively, the cards and posters can be given to hospitals, clinics or other places for distribution. Color versions are also supplied so these can be printed and distributed.

This activity is a great way to encourage kindness and gratitude in our younger generation as we all live through this historic time!

At the same time we can show our support for those working tirelessly for us.

There are 3 different styles in this set. Each style is provided in 4 different versions:

B&W Card
to print and color

Colored Card
to print and give

B&W Poster
to print and color

Colored Poster
to print and give

To Make the Cards

Cut around the edge.

Fold along the horizontal line.

Fold along the vertical line.

To Make the Posters

These can be printed and used as is. The black and white posters can be colored first.

Encourage children to include a written message on the card or the back of the poster.

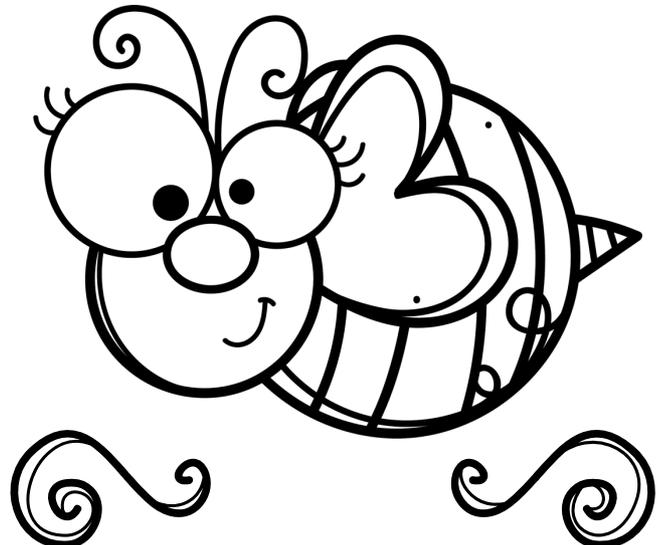

Discuss with children who they think might deserve our gratitude at this time.

We're all in this together so let's help to brighten the day of those who are working for us in this historic time!
